School of Biblical Training established

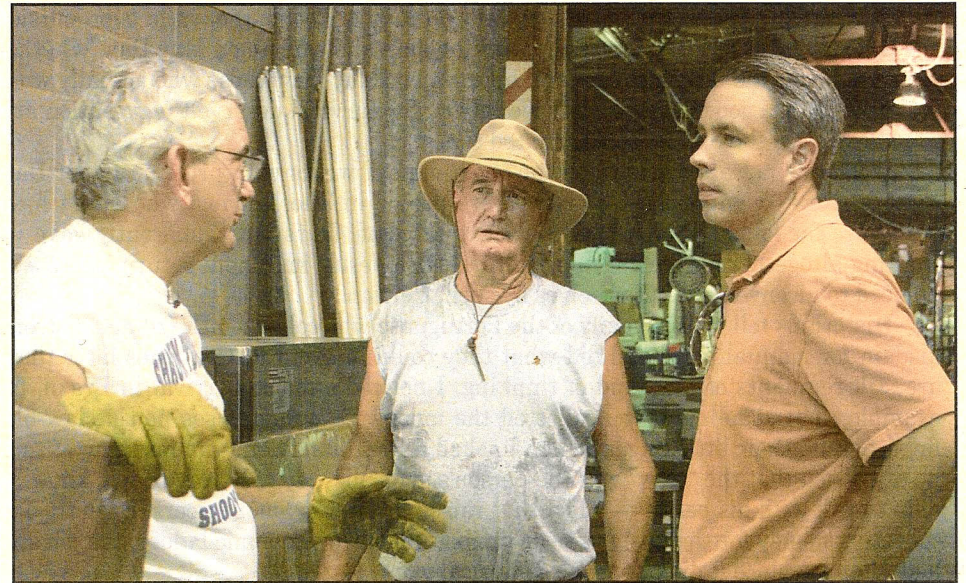

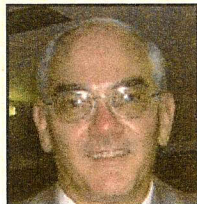

VILONIA

The Mars Hill Church of Christ has established the School of Biblical Training. The school provides intensive classroom instruction to help Christians increase their Biblical knowledge and better prepare for service and teaching.

The first class begins September 13 and is Old Testament Survey taught by Chris Eubanks. Classes will meet the second Saturday of September, October, November, January, February, and March each year.

The complete curriculum consists of 24 courses and is similar to courses offered by schools of preaching in our brotherhood. Students completing the 24-course curriculum will be awarded a diploma.

There is no charge for attending

TV COVERAGE FOR LIFE RESOURCES INTERNATIONAL: John Kachelman (left), minister of the Judsonia church, and Don Eads (center), elder at the College church in Searcy, visit with Scott Inman (right), news anchor for KATV, the ABC affiliate in Little Rock. KATV featured Kachelman and Life Resources International (LRI) as their "Person of the Week." LRI and the Columbus, Ms. church were also featured on WCBI, the CBS affiliate in Columbus. LRI worked with the Columbus church in shipping a container of humanitarian aid to Iraq.
